

The Professor's Special 1 on 1 Training Consultations

After the launch of his new Scalp Trading Strategy and follow-on on-line sessions, The Professor started receiving multiple requests for additional one-on-one time for questions and discussions. Due to increased demand for his time The Professor has decided to offer a special for the Scalp Trading Strategy members. You can sign up for one-on-one sessions in ½ hour increments. To sign up just select the Buy Now button below the associated Event on the Special Events page. Once the time is purchased you will receive an email from The Professor to mutually agree on the time.

To recap, this past year (2020) held many new advances for Themarket101.com. In April The Professor launched his new Scalp Trading Strategy in an on-line video class. It became a huge success almost overnight. He incorporated the lessons in a set of 3 videos so all Themarket101 members could have access. He also has held 2 follow-on sessions, also on video, that have been well received.

In this-video series on his Scalp Trading Strategy, you get the scoop on 4th generation indicators the Professor uses for his Scalp Trading. He has included the custom settings for the indicators. He's never ever given away the secret sauce before.

With the Scalp Trading video series, you'll understand how powerful these 3 indicators are for trading stocks, and ETFs, in intraday or end of day time frames.

PLUS, these same indicators work for going long or short AND are an integral part of exiting from positions.

To schedule your on-on-one time with The Professor just select the Buy Now button on the Special Events Page.
